

Group Project.....Evaluation Method

Group Name/Number: _____

Names: _____

A) Conflict Description

1) Evidence of research (depth/breadth)..... _____ / 10

2) Demonstration of understanding of the conflict..... _____ / 10

- who are the "stakeholders", what are their differing perspectives,
- nature of relationships between the parties
- what are the issues, what positions are taken, what are the underlying interests,

B) Conflict Analysis

3) Appropriate application of Conflict Resolution theory..... _____ / 20

- interpretation (an explanation) of what you have observed, using the various concepts and tools found in course readings, class discussions, or other CR literature.

- critical evaluation of the conflict and the CR methods being used by the parties

- What are they doing that is effective or constructive? What is destructive?
Are their tactics consistent with their goals? (You're creating a 'report card' on the parties' ability to handle conflict.)

- What recommendations would you make to the disputing parties or groups, about how to engage each other in a constructive process?

C) Presentation

4) Organization of material / use of time..... _____ / 7

5) Was presentation engaging / interesting to audience?..... _____ / 7

6) Effective use of handouts, or audio/visual aids..... _____ / 6

Total = _____ / 60

Responsibility of Audience:

Be supportive and encouraging

- This is your opportunity to learn from your academic colleagues!
- They need your support, and you need theirs.

Practice Good Listening Skills

- be attentive
- participate with respect, if and when appropriate
- prepare for the question/response time